EER276
HR Manager

PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

Senior Human Resources professional with 25+ years' experience across schools, multi-academy trusts, further education, local authority, healthcare and commercial environments. I bring a calm, practical and solutions-focused approach to complex ER casework, organisational change and stakeholder management. I am confident advising chief executives, headteachers, school principals, senior leaders and managers on disciplinary, grievance, capability, sickness absence, restructuring, redundancy, TUPE and employment tribunal risk. My strength is combining strong employment law knowledge with a people-centred style - helping leaders take fair, well-documented decisions while keeping staff, unions and operational priorities carefully managed.

KEY STRENGTHS

Complex employee relations	Managing disciplinary, grievance, capability, conduct, absence and workplace dispute cases end-to-end.
Schools and education HR	Advising headteachers, principals, CEOs, governors, trustees and senior teams across schools and colleges.
Organisational change	Drafting restructure proposals, redundancy documentation, consultation materials and employee communications.
TUPE and consultation	Supporting TUPE planning, consultation, documentation, letters and information exchange within required timescales.
Trade union engagement	Building constructive union relationships, supporting consultation, negotiations and industrial relations matters.
Risk management	Reducing employment tribunal risk through fair process, accurate documentation, settlement agreements and legal liaison.
HR leadership and systems	Managing HR teams, improving HR processes, producing ER reports and implementing HR systems including iTrent.
Policy and training	Reviewing HR policies and delivering training on investigations, ER processes, equality and diversity and policy changes.
